Family addiction is often misunderstood and unrecognized. Sojourner House offers informal group discussion about families and addictive disease to help people understand that addiction is a family illness that knows no economic or social boundaries.

If your congregation, youth group, school, social justice or women's ministry is interested in learning more about family addiction or how you can partner with us, please call Joann Cyganovich at (412) 441-7783, ext. 11.

In Memoriam and Honors

Memorial gifts are a thoughtful way to remember someone who's passed, and honor gifts are a way to pay tribute to someone while providing much needed help. Why not consider honoring someone with a contribution? Honor gifts make a unique gift and are a meaningful way to tell someone how much he or she means to you or to thank someone. Announcements are sent to those honored and the amount is never disclosed. We are very appreciative to everyone who has made a generous gift.

Mary Pardee

We are very grateful to the many friends of Mary Pardee who have so generously made gifts to Sojourner House in her memory. As a primary founder, Mary's vision is still alive for every family who comes through the open doors of Sojourner House. As of this date of publication, $2,379.00 has been donated to the Mary Pardee Memorial Fund.
